MISS MILLER'S SONG PROGRAM.

Miss Madge Miller, contralto, will entertain members of the Woman's club with a song recital at the meeting tomorrow afternoon at Masonic temple. The following program will be presented, with Miss Edna Johnson at the piano:

"Der Neugierige" (Schubert).
"Ständchen" (Brahms).
"Du bist wie eine Blume" (Schumann).
"Ich Liebe Dich" (Grieg).
"Ver Borghelt" (Hugo Wolf).
"Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" (Old English).
"Lullaby With the Delicate Air" (Old English).
"Dearest" (Homer).
"Little Winding Road" (Ronald).
"O, Thou Bilkow Harvest Field" (Rachmaninoff).
"Sonnet d'Amour" (Thorne).
"Carmen" (Habaneira) (Bizet).
"Just You" (Burleigh).
"Leaves and the Wind" (Leon).
"Her Rose" (Combs).
"Sweet Mary" (Aspinall).
"When the Night Comes" (Carpeles).
"Joy of the Morning" (Warr).
Miss Maud Powell, the celebrated violinist, recently said of Miss Miller: "She surprised me as much with her exquisite interpretations as with the lovely quality of her voice. I consider it a privilege to have appeared with this charming young artist. Without doubt Miss Miller has reached a position that older singers might envy. During the coming season she will appear in 11 different states before musical clubs and large universities. Both in oratorio and song recital Miss Miller has been unusually successful. Much of her charm lies in her unaffected, girlish stage presence and in her genuinely artistic attainments. Miss Miller sings with equal ease in German, French, Italian and English. She is without doubt one of the most talented young singers America has produced."

Because of the fact that the program for the day is long, the meeting will be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow.

The program will be followed by a social time, when the members of the club will be the guests of Mrs. T. B. Davis, the club president, and will be given an opportunity to meet Mrs. Frederick Dow, former president of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, and Miss Miller.

ENTERTAIN AT HOUSE WARMING

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Corvin, who have recently moved into their beautiful new home on Tenth avenue and Thirtieth street, last evening entertained at a house warming, the builders and supply men with their wives, to the number of 40 being their guests. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock in four courses and the hours following were passed in delightful sociability and in inspecting the new home.

SCHULZE-GODELL.

Miss Cecil Goddell, daughter of Ira Goddell of Moline and William Schulze of Cooper, Iowa, was united in marriage Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Rev. Craig S. Thomas, pastor of the Moline First Baptist church, performing the ring ceremony. The house was decorated with cut flowers and the bridal couple was unattended except for the little flower girl, Harriet Mayhew, niece of the bride. The bride's sister, Mrs. Dana Mayhew, played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin at the hour of the ceremony and while it was read Miss Katherine Mayhew sang "I Love You Truly." The bride wore a dark blue serge suit and she carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. She wore a black silk hat trimmed in black and red pompons. The flower girl was dressed in white with a blue sash and she carried a basket filled with white flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Schulze left for a short wedding trip and will later go to their new home in Cooper, Iowa, where they will reside on a farm.

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also.

"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. REINA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

bouquet of bride's roses. She wore a black silk hat trimmed in black and red pompons. The flower girl was dressed in white with a blue sash and she carried a basket filled with white flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Schulze left for a short wedding trip and will later go to their new home in Cooper, Iowa, where they will reside on a farm.

A short business session was followed by a program when Miss Adolphson read a paper on infant welfare work in the New York state department of health. Miss Nelson read an article on welfare work in a department store in New York and Miss David told of the nurse in business. Musical numbers were enjoyed, and during an hour of sociability refreshments were served. The March meeting will be in Rock Island, the place to be announced later.

TO CELEBRATE 25TH ANNIVERSARY.

One of the most delightful parties of the season was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Trenkenschuh, 1106 Fifteenth street. Mr. and Mrs. Trenkenschuh were invited to dinner at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Trenkenschuh, and upon their return home they were taken completely by surprise when they found 50 relatives and close friends gathered to round them off their 25th wedding anniversary. The house was beautifully decorated in silver and pale green. The centerpiece of the table was a large cake with the numerals 25 in silver on the top. Place cards were photos of the bride and groom of 25 years and favors were silver caps. A dainty four course dinner was served. Little Austin Howe presented Mr. and Mrs. Trenkenschuh with several pieces of silver as remembrances of the happy occasion. Games were played and in a peanut contest prizes were won by William S. Hill and Mrs. Jochims, while Mrs. Powell and Walter Howe carried off the prizes in another contest. The Misses Pearl and Mabel Trenkenschuh were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Jochims, Mrs. Powell and Miss Edna Kimbel.

The guests departed at an early hour in the morning wishing Mr. and Mrs. Trenkenschuh 25 more years of happy wedded life and wishing to meet again in 25 years. Miss Williams and George Trenkenschuh were married in this city, Feb. 18, 1890, and to their union three children were born, Mabel, Pearl and Ruth, all at home.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

SEWING SUGGESTIONS.

The position of the needlewoman is very important.

Place the small of the back to the back of the chair, the feet on the floor or foot rest and the arms free at the side. Hold the work up, getting the light over the left shoulder, if concentrated.

It is often puzzling to find out the lengthwise and crosswise of the material.

The warp threads run lengthwise and are the strongest. The woof threads run crosswise and form the selvage. They were originally the filling threads.

You can distinguish between them by pulling the material.

A lengthwise thread tears with difficulty and stands out more clearly and appears straighter than the crosswise or woof threads.

UP-TO-DATE RECIPES.

Meatless Vegetable Soup—Three medium-sized potatoes, three medium-sized carrots, one large onion, one bunch celery or half teaspoon celery salt, half cup well washed rice. Cover vegetables with boiling water; when they are boiling hard, add rice and cook until vegetables are tender. Season. When ready to serve add good-sized lump of butter.

Nut Parsnip Stew—Wash, scrape and slice thin two good-sized parsnips; cook until perfectly tender in two

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees With Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients."

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick) and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find Grape-Nuts and albumen water very nourishing and refreshing."

"This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice for flavoring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assimilate without any distress."

"My husband is a physician and he uses Grape-Nuts himself and orders it many times for his patients."

"Personally I regard a dish of Grape-Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for anyone—well or sick."

In stomach trouble, nervous prostration, etc., a 10-day trial of Grape-Nuts will usually work wonders toward nourishing and rebuilding and in this way end the trouble. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man of 20 and would like your advice.

(1) When walking down the street with a girl which side should I walk on?

(2) Which side should I sit on in a buggy?

(3) Do you think a girl cares much for a fellow if she goes back on him when he is out of work?

(4) I asked a girl to stop wearing a dress which was too low-necked and too tight. Did I do right?

A DAILY READER.

(1) The outside.

(2) The driver sits on the right side, whether boy or girl.

(3) A girl can refuse to marry a man who is out of a job and still care for him, but if she refuses to remain his friend she cannot care for him.

(4) Yes. I wish more young men would do the same.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am the second wife of a man who has a daughter 19 years old. She should have finished school last year, but she failed in some of her work and therefore is not able to teach. Her ideas are too high for housework and so she still depends upon her father for her clothes. We are so in debt that it has taken all we could make in the last few years, working hard, to send her to school. She lives with her grandparents. I have had to leave my husband once on account of her and I am afraid I will have to do so again. What would you do?

MARRIED.

A girl who has received an education certainly ought to be self-supporting. If you are patient until she has had a chance to make up her work your obligation to her is ended. It may be that she has no desire to become independent. In that case I should never consent to him supporting her at my expense.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man and have gone with several girls.

(1) How can I tell when a girl really loves me?

(2) Some boys told a certain girl things about me which were not true. Since then I have been to see her and she says that she hardly believes what they said. How can I prove to her that these things are untrue?

(3) I was going with a girl and had learned to love her when she moved down south. After writing me a few letters she stopped writing. At Christmas she sent me a present. Do you think that she was afraid we would tire of one another's letters?

ANXIOUS GRAY EYES.

(1) By asking her a very foolish thing for a young man who is later tested in several girls to do.

(2) Do not try to prove it by words, but by actions. Let your character show it.

(3) Yes, but she wanted to prove her friendship.

If E. B. M. will send a stamped envelope I shall be pleased to answer her questions.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will you please give me a recipe for veal loaf.

ADELINE.

Get a knuckle of veal and boil until the meat is ready to fall off the bone. Salt a few minutes before taking out. Put the meat through a grinder. Boil down the liquor until it will jelly. Season with salt and pepper and pour over the ground meat.

THANK YOU.

Dye may be kept in a bottle or jar indefinitely. When washing the linen add a few drops of dye to the rinse water the same as you would bluing.

Bacon—There's one thing I can't understand. Egbert—What is that? Bacon—When a couple get married they become one. But they say it takes two to make a quarrel.
